

Course Name	Code\No.	Number of Credits
		Theo.	Lab.	Train.	Credit
Undergraduate Research	HWR 400	-	-	6	2
Pre-Requests	HWR313

Course Objectives:

To measure the ability of the student to perform a research project under the supervisor of one of the staff members in a topic related to hydrology and write it in a scientific way and present it in front of the audience for discussion.

Course Contents:

The topic is chosen by the student guided with his supervisor, it will be discussed in a colloquium in the department.

Course outcomes:

The student will learn how to:

- How to perform a research project
- How to write a report of a research project.
- How to present results it in front of the audience.
- How to answer scientific questions posed by the examination committee.

Evaluation Method:

The evaluation is performed by:

- The supervisor evaluation and the examination committee on the research project report (70% of the mark).
- The performance on front of the audience and answering of the questions posed to the student (30% of the mark).